“ It's been a little over 4 years that I was blessed to meet this gentle soul. The first time I had met him he made me feel very welcomed into his family. We talked about his John Deere collection, the Norwegian alphabet, and his service to this country.

When the day came to an end, we were outside on the driveway when he quickly said, “wait I'll come back” Ethan and I looked at each other confused. Yes, indeed he came back in a speedy walk with a rose that he hand cut himself for me.

His family are very blessed and so loved by him. He loved seeing his grandchildren play board games, you could see it in his eyes.

It was a privilege to had known him.
