

Emma Caroline (Logel) Marshall

May 31, 1921 - April 2, 2016

NEW PALESTINE – Emma Caroline Marshall, 94, New Palestine, passed away on Saturday, April 2, 2016. Born Emma Logel on May 31, 1921 in Mt. Vernon, Indiana. She married James Marshall on August 28, 1945.

Emma was a sweet woman who always watched out for and worried over the ones she loved. She was the mother of three daughters, and grandmother of six, great grandmother of 2. She was a great cook and everything tasted better because she used home grown veggies and bacon grease. She made the best potato salad, fried fish, and jars of jelly without recipes. She was a strong woman which made her husband a better man. She and Jim tended a large garden, canned vegetables, built houses, push mowed acres of grass, and she didn't quit until she cleaned up. Emma enjoyed fishing in the Gulf of Mexico and playing Pinochle.

Emma is survived by her daughters, Janis Lundwall (Dan) and Karen Sipe and their families including grandchildren, Nick Young (Kelly), Nathan Young, Scott Lundwall and Todd Lundwall; great grandchildren, Bailey Young and Sean Young. She was preceded in death by her husband, Jim; daughter, Kathy Kent and grandchildren, Sean and Kyle Kent. Following her wishes there will be no services.

“ There are so many memories of Emma. In fact, I can hardly think of her without saying "Emma and Jim". They were a team. They were the innovators in DIY. Emma could do anything, and she did. Along side of her husband Jim, She built homes, they were the consummate architects and designers. She could grow anything in her garden and cook up an organic meal. She was the Chief Advisor in our community on "Chicken Hill". Whatever you needed or needed to know you went to Emma. She was a good listener and didn't judge. Its hard to believe she is gone but happy she is now with her beloved husband. People like Emma you think are invincible and are immune to age and death. She will be missed but not forgotten.
