“ You never know who you touch but be assured that she touched many lives with her love, kindness, and knowledge. Although she is greatly missed but family, friends, co-workers, and patients, Jesus has welcomed her home.

“ I loved working with Francie at Hancock Memorial Hospital! She was always a sweet, kind and knowledgeable soul. It was an Honor to be a part of the Nursing Honor Guard and present the lamp to her husband Paul. Francie exemplified Florence Nightingale in how she carried out her nursing responsibilities. I appreciated our last conversation about a month ago. Jesus has gained a precious angel!

“ I worked with Francie at Brandywine. She always took the time to listen to others, compassionate, giving, professional and a great person. Our paths crossed several times after Brandywine but the last time we saw each other was when she visited me in the Nursing Home ( within the last year). Francie and her family have been in my prayers since that visit. I am sorry to hear that one of the Angels who walked among us has moved on. Treasure the memories.
