“ Shirley was bright soul who taught me so much, helped me believe in myself and my gifts. I would love to help celebrate her life. I know you must feel a tremendous loss. Sending love.

“ Dawn and Mark, I'm so sorry for the loss of your mom. And I've lost a dear friend. I met Shirley back in the late 1970's or early 1980's. She and I worked as hair stylists and when Sandy (Low, it was then) bought Mary Jane's Beauty Shop in downtown Greenfield, Shirley, Mildred Woodworth, Evelyn Fletcher and I went with her. My cousin, Karen Bennett, was hired also. We had so much fun! All have passed now, except for me...that's a lonely thought.

Shirley and I attended Ivy Tech together and took turns driving. Shirley was a woman who accepted people, she was always there for me when I needed to vent and needed her opinion...and she always came through, always came up with another way of looking at something that was bothering me. And 99% of the time she was correct.

Are there beauty shops in heaven? Because if there are God is probably stretched to His breaking point. I just know those wonderful women I mentioned above have gathered at one, laughing, joking and generally making alot of noise.

I'll miss you, dear Shirley. Tell them a funny joke and tell them its from me.

I love you, Becki Williams Simpson

“ I met her while working at Regency Place in Greenfield. She had a great sense of humor which it took to survive there. She stood up for what was right. I admired that about her.
